This online syllabus should be used to gain a better understanding of the content and focus of a course. The syllabus given out in the class may differ from this online version and its content supersedes that of the online syllabus.

Course Description:

This course serves as an introduction to the Reformed tradition as embodied in the history, faith, institutions, and practices of the Presbyterian churches, with particular attention devoted to the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). The course surveys major figures and movements, recurring theological themes, and perennial and recent challenges to the life of the church. The course also provides for close and contextual readings of Reformed creeds and confessions.

The course assumes a basic knowledge of Christian theology and of church history as a prerequisite. The completion of Faith Seeking Understanding (FQI) or equivalent previous course work in theology is required to participate in this intermediate level of instruction and learning.

Objectives:

Students will explore both the diversity and the common witness of expressions of Reformed faith across time, examine the nature of a religious tradition and its ethos, and develop the analytical and interpretive skills necessary to participate faithfully in the ongoing witness of the church today.

Requirements:

1. Preparation and participation. Your preparation and thoughtful contribution to class discussion (especially on discussion section days) will represent 15% of your final grade.
2. Short discussion papers: You are asked to write 5 one-page (single-spaced) papers out of 6 possible options, as indicated in the Calendar of Lectures and Discussion Topics for 2/18, 3/4, 3/12, 3/18, 3/31, and 4/14. They are to be handed in (via the digital dropbox on the Blackboard course site—<http://fishersnet.blackboard.com/webapps/login>) before class time on the day indicated in the syllabus. No late papers will be accepted. These papers will represent 25% of your final grade.
3. Analysis of a point of Reformed doctrine in the Book of Confessions. You will prepare a 10-12 page (double-spaced) paper analyzing Reformed confessional positions as reflected in The Book of Confessions on the topic you are assigned (see A. and B. below). In addition you (and your partner) will be expected to facilitate a discussion on the date indicated in the syllabus for your topic. Discussion will be expected to center around a theology ordination exam question that you will devise which presents a scenario in ministry relating to the point of Reformed doctrine you have been assigned (see B. below). Please make copies of your ordination question for your classmates. In your class discussion time, please have the class divide into small groups to work on all or part of the question you devise. Then have the class come back together to discuss the question as a whole. You are encouraged to have your paper completed by the date on which your assigned topic is due to be discussed. Please include your answer to the ordination question in your paper. All papers will be due no later than May 15. This paper and your leadership in the assigned discussion period will represent 35% of the final grade.

The chart on page 7 of this syllabus lists the most obvious locations for theological discussions of particular doctrines in The Book of Confessions. Please note that locations have not been provided for the Apostles' Creed, the Nicene Creed, or the Brief Statement of Faith since their brevity allows you to peruse them quickly for relevant comments on the doctrines listed.

The Book of Confessions is also available in searchable form on the computers in the Seminary's computer lab. If you are not presenting on a particular day, you are expected to perform a computer search of the BoC for the doctrinal topic(s) assigned for that day. This exercise will both enhance your own learning and support your classmates' efforts in leading discussion on those topics.

In your paper you should:

A. Discuss the unity and diversity of the Reformed witness.

i. Begin by identifying the general contours of “a Reformed position” on your topic. What is distinctive about the Reformed ways the confessions treat the topic? In the process of identifying what the confessions say about your topic, do not go through each confessional document outlining in detail what each says. Be restrained and judicious in your use of quotations and citations. Do cite passages that seem particularly important or illustrative of common or distinctive themes.

ii. Once you have attempted to find a common thread or witness in the confessions as a whole, pay attention to differences. Where do you find divergent emphases? Where do you see outright disagreement? Where do you note development in positions over time? As part of your analysis, it will be as important to attend to what is left out as it will be to note what is said. If your topic is not taken up in a confessional document, think about possible reasons for the omission.

B. Discuss practical applications of the point of doctrine.

Devise a theology ordination exam question centered around the doctrine you have been assigned. Look at some actual theology exams questions before you write your own. (The library has several CD's of the questions from previous ordination exams. This content is also available on the web at www.lpts.edu/content/documents/OrdExams.pdf under the category Theological Competence.) You will be devising a question for Section I of the exam, in which you are allowed to use an unmarked Book of Confessions. Outline a realistic scenario in the practice of ministry on which the confessional doctrinal positions you have discussed in part A of this assignment would have some significant bearing. The test of a “good” question is how well it facilitates your exploration of the practical dimensions of theological convictions. In your class presentation you should spend some time indicating how you would answer this ordination exam question. If you are working with a partner for this assignment, you may devise one exam question together, and collaborate on the class presentation, but you should each hand in a paper. In your paper, answer the ordination exam question that you devise for class discussion.

4. Midterm

A midterm exam will be given on March 31. The midterm exam will count as 25% of your final grade.

Required Texts:

James H. Smylie. A Brief History of the Presbyterians (Geneva Press). (Referred to in the syllabus as Smylie)

Christopher Elwood. Calvin for Armchair Theologians (W/JK). (Referred to in the syllabus as Elwood)
PCUSA. The Book of Confessions, Study Edition (W/JK). (Referred to in the syllabus as BoC)

Milton J Coalter, John M. Mulder, Louis B. Weeks. The Re-Forming Tradition: Presbyterians and Mainstream Protestantism (W/JK). (Referred to in the syllabus as Re-Forming Tradition)

Other readings are on e-reserve at the Blackboard site for this course (R), or available on the web through links in the syllabus, as indicated. It is recommended that students make themselves a copy of each assigned reading.
